Able Information Technologies, Inc.
Awarded
Two New Mexico State Contracts

Belen, NM: Able Information Technologies, Inc., (www.ableinc.com) a provider of complete integrated technology solutions for the past 16 years and a top E-Rate provider, announced today that it has been awarded two New Mexico State Contracts by the State's Department of Information Technology Infrastructure. One contract is to provide the State with wide and local network products and services, and the other is for telephony systems equipment and services.

The State of New Mexico hand-picks only select and reputable information technology vendors to provide cost effective procurement mechanism to meet current and future challenges. Vendors selected must be able to demonstrate both compatibility with current systems and the ability to satisfy technology plans for the future.

"Being on the New Mexico State Contracts is a testament to the quality equipment and services Able is providing," said Brandon Ames, President and CEO of Able. Mr. Ames added that he is "very pleased and proud to add the New Mexico State government to the list of government entities in the Southwest that Able has been serving for many years." Mr. Chris Soiles, Able's Branch Manager in New Mexico, stated that "the State of New Mexico uses contracts as a more economical method for the State to purchase IT related equipment and services and Able is happy to do its part to help."

Able is expecting to continue the growth trend it has experienced in the past few years, and is planning further expansion by winning contracts with other Local, State, and Federal governments, as well as private sector ones.
