Able Information Technologies Opens Office in Texas

Chandler, AZ. December 22, 2008: Able Information Technologies, Inc. (www.ableinc.com), a provider of complete technology solutions for the past 15 years and the #1 E-rate provider in the Southwest, announced today the opening of a new office in Corsicana, Texas; and the appointing of Mr. Steve Ryan as the Branch Manager there.

As part of its plan to expand beyond the State of Arizona, Able had set its sights on New Mexico last year, and now it opens another branch office in Texas too. "Going to Texas is based on Able's long-term strategic direction" said Brandon Ames, President and CEO of Able. Mr. Ames added "We will be able to leverage our unique competitive advantage as a complete IT solutions provider into the Texas market place."

"I am proud to announce the appointment of one of our most seasoned engineers, Steve Ryan, to the position of Branch Manager of the Texas office" said Jessica Soqui, Director of Human Resources at Able. Over the years, Mr. Ryan has earned many highly-regarded professional certifications, and successfully lead initiatives at Able and at previous employers.

Able is expecting to continue the growth trend it has experienced in the past few years, and is planning further expansion by opening offices in other Southern and Southwestern States in the near future.
